VESUVIUS IS QUIETING DOWN

Just Grumbling Slightly is the Report Today.

Prof. Matteucci Believes That the Volcano's Chimney is Being Choked Up.

DESTRUCTION HAS BEEN GREAT

Naples, April 13.—While the news from Vesuvius is reassuring conditions here in Naples this morning are such as to make it difficult to realize that conditions are actually better. The wind is carrying the ashes in this direction. Towards evening the fall of ashes and cinders here was worse than at any time since the eruption began.

Scenic effects vary from hour to hour. Now in the north the sky is chocolate colored lowering and heavy under which men and women with their hair and clothing covered with ashes move about like gray ghosts. Fort San Martino as it towers above the town can only just be seen, while Castle Dell'ovo is boldly marked in light, seeming like silver against the brown sky.

South, beyond the smoke, lies smiling, sunny Portici and its peninsula while far away glimmers the sea, a deep blue, on which islands seem to float in the glow of the setting sun. Adding to the strange picture one of the French men of war has arrived in the bay and is so placed as to be half in glow and half obscured by the belt of falling ashes. From the observatory of Mount Vesuvius, where Director Matteucci continuing his work in behalf of science and humanity, the scene is one of great impressiveness. To reach the observatory, one must walk miles over the hardened but hot lava covered with sand until he comes to a point whence nothing can be seen but vast gray reaches.

In all this lonely waste there is no life or vegetation, and no sound is heard except the low mutterings of the volcano. One seems almost impelled to scream aloud to break the horrible stiffness of a land seemingly forgotten by God and man.

Every day that passes gives new evidence of the magnitude of the catastrophe.

Yesterday's visit of King Victor Emmanuel to Otto Jano revealed new tragedies. At a certain point his majesty had to abandon his motor car and went forward on horseback amid constant danger, his horse floundering through four feet of ashes, stumbling into holes, blinded by the fall of large cinders and a target for falling basaltic masses. In the presence of the king, 123 more bodies were extricated from the ruins, while ashes and red sand fell as though determined not to relinquish their victims. The dead at Otto Jano are said to number 550.

Vesuvius Quieting Down Some. Naples, April 13.—Sullen grumble like a desultory fire of cannon and a rain of fine dust of ashes is now the extent of Vesuvius' activity.

An official bulletin gives the details of a dispatch from Prof. Matteucci in which the scientist declares he is certain there will be no further eruption of a serious nature at this time. His examinations have disclosed the fact that the falling in of the crater has served to choke the chimney of the volcano and cut off its activity. He also says rapidly cooling lava is serving to cement the natural dam which is holding back the subterranean fire. Many people are convinced, however, cessation of the eruption is only temporary.

Naples and the entire stricken district is in the hands of the military and under direction of the king. Everything possible is being done to relieve the stricken people.

Facts of the Great Destruction. Naples, April 13.—It is now estimated that the dead will reach 2,000 and that 200,000 people have been rendered homeless. Half a dozen villages have been completely buried by sand and ashes. Late reports show thousands of houses destroyed at Torre Del Greco, and 200 in Portici, while reports from other villages show that from 200 to 400 houses have been demolished.

RUSSIA MAY BECOME BANKRUPT NATION.

Glasgow, Scotland, April 13.—A dispatch to the Herald from St. Petersburg says the committee bankruptcy of Russia is approaching as the negotiations for the new loan wanted by the government is again deadlocked. The demand made by the Russian officials are ignored by the European financiers, hence the conditions.

GERMAN CITIZENS RECEIVED.

Happy Talk Made to Some Visitors
by the President.

Washington, April 13.—Ambassador Speck von Sternberg, of Germany, yesterday afternoon presented to President Roosevelt, in the east room of the White House, a delegation of about fifty officers, ex-soldiers and veterans of the German army. Many of them now are American citizens. They were accorded a cordial reception by the president.

The president embraced the opportunity to deliver a brief, but important, speech to his callers. In his remarks he made reference to the Algeiras conference, which recently was successfully concluded. He extended to the German emperor hearty personal felicitations and congratulated the emperor and the German people on the work accomplished at Algeiras. He expressed the belief that the result of the convention would be to render the more friendly the relations between the two mighty powers, Germany and France.

A FIRE HORROR.

Two Children Burned to Death in House Near Calhoun, Ky.

Calhoun, Ky., April 13.—Frank and Lucinda Lancaster, both under nine years of age, were burned to death at the family home near here today. The parents and a 2-year-old child were dangerously burned. The horror was the result of a gasoline stove explosion. Mrs. Lancaster's dress caught fire and the husband tried to extinguish it. The flames spread burling the house and cut off the escape of the children, who were in upper rooms.

JUST A RUSE

TO DUPE THE POLICYHOLDERS WAS FIELDS' SUMMONS.

Latter Calls the Bluff and Sets Wall Street to Smiling By Doing So.

New York, April 13.—Another desperate effort to distract the attention of the duped policyholders and throw them off the scent of the real culprit, President Peabody of the Mutual Life Insurance company, was the summons served on Andrew Fields, the former legislative agent of the Mutual, who scattered the hard earned money of the policyholders with such prodigality among the legislative inmates of his notorious "house of mirth" in Albany.

Fields, aware that the summons meant practically nothing, promptly called the bluff by putting in an appearance through his counsel, in ten minutes after the paper had been served.

Other developments in the insurance situation are an investigation by the grand jury of Ryan's Washington Life company, the report of A. D. Julliard, to President Peabody of the Mutual affairs in Europe, a promise by Peabody to the policyholders is that their grievances would be remedied; an effort by the European manager to establish a separate company in England with himself as president and the discovery that C. E. Baker of the Mutual's board of trustees, was on a mysterious mission in the west to obtain proxies. It is believed, that will insure the retention of the control of the policyholders' money by the Standard Oil gang which hitherto has played ducks and drakes with it and reaped fabulous fortunes for themselves.

The summons that was served on Fields merely cites him to put in an appearance in court within 20 days from date the document bears. It does not tell him for what he is needed nor the nature of the complaint to be brought against him. In fact, as it stands it means nothing. It may be followed with a bill of particulars or permitted to drop as the Mutual clique may deem best for their own interests.

Wall street smiled at this last attempt of the shrewd manipulators of insurance companies' surpluses to throw sand in the eyes of the public and complimented Fields on his quickness in calling the bluff. No body believes that the suit is to be prosecuted honestly.

People to Elect Senators.

Washington, D. C., April 13.—A resolution providing for the election of senators by direct vote of the people has been favorably acted on by the house committee on election of president, vice president and representatives in congress.

The resolution, which was introduced by Mr. Norris, of Nebraska, makes the terms of the members of the house four years instead of two. Both propositions are to be accomplished by amendments to the constitution.

Reasons why the term of members should be four years are stated to be because no party can inaugurate its policy in two years.

OUT OF FRYING PAN INTO FIRE

Two Former "Big Jail" Prisoners in "Bad" Again.

J. A. Donovan and Will Jackson in for Another Experience On Felony Charge.

CLAIMS ROBBERY BY FORCE

Will Jackson and J. A. Donovan, who this week barely escaped a penitentiary sentence for obtaining money by false pretenses, stand an excellent chance of making their second appearance before the "Big Court" this time on probably a more serious charge.

Donovan and Jackson are charged by Walter Timmons, age 15, son of Pilot John Timmons, of the I. C. transfer boat Duncan, with robbery, and the matter looks rather delicate for the two prisoners, who were this morning fully identified by Young Timmons, and who broke down and wept because of the alleged treatment he received at the hands of the prisoners.

"They pulled out a big pistol and pointed it at my head, commanding me to give them back $3 they had paid me in Illinois to pull them across the river to the Kentucky shore," the boy wailed as he looked the men over in the lockup this morning.

The prisoners did not deny the fact that they had been pulled across the river by the boy, but do say that they did not take any money from him because they had none. Donovan seemed anxious to see Capt. Timmons, the father, to "fix the matter up," and will be given an opportunity to do so in court tomorrow.

Little is known about the two prisoners here. They came to Paducah several months ago, and Donovan worked for a time at the Cooperage Co. plant. With Jackson he went to the J. C. Lindsey grocery on the south side and secured groceries on credit. The grocer alleged that Donovan claimed he was employed in the cooperage plant and that Jackson was foreman of his crew. They were tried for this but acquitted and after that disappeared until yesterday afternoon when arrested again for alleged robbery.

They had been in Metropolis and were returning home. They left the boat at Brookport and desiring to come across yesterday morning engaged the Timmons boy to pull them over. He agreed, he says for $1 to do the work, but when they wanted to go as far as the wharf boat he added two dollars, which they paid him. He claims the $3 was taken away by force when the bank was reached.

Donovan and Jackson say they had no money and agreed to send it to the boy's father, but were warned not to because the boy told them the parent might "drink it up." Donovan seemed anxious to see the father and pay him the $1 or $3 and end the matter.

On account of Young Timmons' absence this morning the case was left open in the city court until tomorrow morning. The authorities believe that the two prisoners promised to pay the boy for rowing them across the swollen river and then failed to do so and hence the boy's charge, while others believe the boy's story is true in detail.

Donovan and Jackson came here from St. Louis, they say, and are from the "world at large." They have a sister and one or two other female relatives dependant on them they claim. Their residence is in Boyd's alley, on the North Side.

STATE'S MONEY SAFE.

Gov. Pennypacker Says Over $1,000,000
Has Been Recovered.

Harrisburg, Pa., April 13.—Gov. Pennypacker issues an official statement announcing that the commonwealth of Pennsylvania has recovered all the public funds, amounting to $1,030,000 on deposit in the Enterprise National bank of Allegheny, at the time of its failure. In his statement the governor says:

"The deposit of $1,030,000 in the Enterprise National bank which failed on the 18th day of October, 1905, together with interest, $14,343.15, has been paid into the treasury of the commonwealth and in behalf of the people of Pennsylvania, I thank the state treasurer for the care with which this deposit, when made, was safeguarded and for the promptness with which it has been collected."

LAYS EGGS INSIDE OUT.

Remarkable Performance of Hen Whose Home Is in Ohio.

Delaware, O., April 13.—Laying eggs which are turned inside out is the unusual accomplishment of a Plymouth rock owned by Dwight Maugann, of this city. She lays one each day and always on the inverted order.

The outside covering of the product of this extraordinary hen is the thin white skin usually found just under the shell. The white of the egg comes next then comes the regulation shell surrounding the yolk. This shell is of exactly the same formation as the exterior covering of the ordinary hen fruit.

SOME QUESTIONS OF SANITATION

Special Joint Council Meeting to Consider Matters.

An Effort to Be Made to Especially Correct the Garbage Nuisance.

HEALTH MUST BE PROTECTED

A special meeting of the joint ordinance committee of the council, will be held one night soon with the board of health to take up the ordinances the board of health wants passed at once.

One of the best measures the board wants enacted at once is a system of garbage collection. The board suggests that the garbage be let by contract, and all garbage be collected and burned, or disposed of in some manner to be determined later, every day, and the alleys and back premises kept thoroughly clean.

"We want this system of garbage collection adopted at once if it can be done and the expense this year borne by the city, as it is too late to make it a matter of special taxation. We estimate that it won't cost over $2,500 and we know of no way in which that amount of money could be spent to as good advantage. It is a burning shame to see the conditions that have existed in many localities in the city heretofore, and it is to obviate these conditions that we want this system installed."

"We shall have to be careful with the health conditions of Paducah this summer. We had very little cold weather to kill the germs and stamp out the unsanitary conditions, and unless a measure of protection and safeguard is adopted and put into effect early, we shall pay the fiddler in coins of illness."

Some of the measures proposed by the board of health are those covering tuberculosis, the disposal of garbage and the cleaning of stables and back yards, and laws governing dairies, barber shops, drainage and sewers. The council is anxious to put the desired measures into laws, and the work will be taken up at a very early date.

The Southern cities have gone to work in a vigorous manner to get their towns in good sanitary condition, the Memphis board of health this week issuing orders to accept no further excuses for violation of the laws, but to arrest all offenders from now on. Louisville is doing the same thing, and Pittsburg, where there is an epidemic of typhoid fever, the records showing an average of fifty new cases a day, after the horse has been stolen, figuratively speaking, is waking up, and frantically trying to get into a good healthy condition. Noting these incidents the Paducah board will take time by the forelock and get to work in earnest.

Operators Refuse to Sign.

Wheeling, W. Va., April 13.—The scale will not be signed by all the coal operators and miners of Eastern Ohio at the conference today. Two unimportant miners will sign but the larger producers declare they will not agree to the miners' scale.

ANTHRACITE MINERS AND OPERATORS

Former Grant Latter the Choice of Two Proposals.

The Operators Make Informal Reply
Intimating That They Will Not Accept Either.

A STRIKE MAY YET FOLLOW

New York, April 13.—At a meeting of the sub-committees of the anthracite mine workers and operators yesterday the employees offered the mine owners a choice of two propositions in their endeavor to come to an amicable agreement and the employees made an informal reply in which they intimated that they did not like to accept either offer. The operators will make an official answer to the miners latest proposition by letter and there will be no further meetings until something develops. While there is still hope that a peaceful solution can be found, the meeting today did not bring the contending parties closer together; in fact they appear almost to have reached the limit of the negotiations. If the operators should decline to entertain either proposition submitted by the miners it is probable a convention of miners will be called at which the delegates will declare a strike.

Briefly stated, the offer made by Mitchell was a resubmission of the miners' original demands with two amendments and in case they are not accepted, he proposed that the whole controversy will be placed before a strike commission.

In one of the amendments to the original demands, Mitchell drops the request for a recognition of the union and provides that the proposed agreement be made between the operators and anthracite workers instead of the. The other amendment provides that only employees who are willing shall be assessed a certain sum each month to defray the expenses of carrying out the proposed check-off agreement instead of union and non-union men being called upon to contribute. If the operators do not accept the original demands as amended, the miners propose that (the original demands as amended) and the operators' first proposition, which provides for the renewal for three years of the award on the anthracite strike commission, be referred for arbitration to a strike commission. Thus the miners drop their second offer which provided for arbitration by a conciliation board and ignore the operators' second proposition with the exception of the strike feature, which they accept.

After Mitchell, as chairman of the miners' sub-committee had finished reading the answer, the operators withdrew and discussed the communication for about ten minutes. Upon their return, President Baer, as chairman of the operators' committee, made their reply declining the miners' proposition.

An informal talk followed, during which it was agreed that any meeting of the joint commission that was desired by the miners, arrangement for it could be made by Baer and Mitchell, after the meeting Mitchell confirmed the interpretation that the first amendment to his original demand eliminated the request for recognition of his union. Technically, Mitchell and his colleagues are not appearing before the operators as officers of the United Mine Workers of America, but as representatives of the anthracite mine workers. This was also their status before the strike commission in 1902 and 1903. The general scale committee of the miners held a brief session this afternoon and after adjournment left for home to await development.

ington Monday.

THE HAGUE CONFERENCE.

Russia Is Willing to Postpone the Meeting Suggested.

Washington, April 13.—Baron Rosen, the Russian ambassador, called upon Secretary Root at the state department yesterday and advised that the Russian government was entirely willing to have the meeting of the second Hague conference postponed. It was stated that the Russian government, in naming July as a suitable time for the conference, had only in mind what it conceived to be the convenience of The Netherlands government and of all concerned. However, upon learning that the date would be inconvenient to the United States and other countries, and after consultation with the government of The Netherlands and learning that that government could accommodate the conference at another date, it was deemed best to accede to the general wish of the powers and allow the postponement of the conference to a date to be selected in the future by agreement.

HART WILL MEET GARDNER.

Louisville Fighter Signs Articles for a Four-Round Bout.

New York, April 13.—Marvin Hart and George Gardner, heavyweights, have signed articles to fight four rounds on April 23 before the Twentieth Century Athletic club at Madison Square Garden. Tim Hurst will referee the contest.

The battle was arranged after a long preliminary squabble, in which the men held out for what they considered would be to their individual advantage, just as though they were fighting to a finish for the world's championship.

WON'T DUCK

DOWIE WILL NOT TURN TAIL
AND RETURN TO MEXICO.

After Resting and Fortifying Himself He Will Wage Legal War for Rights.

Chicago, Ill., April 13.—Though the air is filled with all kinds of rumors as to what Dowie will do, and what he won't do, one report saying he is to tuck tail and flee back to Mexico for peace and to hold there any grounds which he may have, Dowie today declares that he is to do nothing but remain here until he has rested and fortified himself with the law and then he will wage the war for his rights for which he came to this place. He says he came here to and will regain control of Zion City and as soon as he considers he has taken the proper preliminary steps he will demand upon that place and proclaim himself the only and "First Apostle." This statement is authorized by Dowie himself and by his lawyers.

Notwithstanding his warlike declaration, attorneys of both factions held several conferences yesterday and it is believed they are striving to reach an agreement so as to prevent Zion City's affairs getting into court.

Attorneys for Dowie have secured an order from the postal department directing that mail addressed to Dowie be delivered to his apartments in the Annex. This they consider a very important strategic move, as a majority of these letters are from members of the church remitting tithings.

Dowie Declines Arbitration.

Chicago, April 13.—Voliva proposed today that a board of ten deacons, five friendly to each party, be selected to dissect the future affairs of Zion City. Dowie's attorney announced that Dowie would agree to nothing that would deprive him in the slightest measure of all his rights in the premises.

GREENE-GAYNOR GUILTY.

Conspiracy Against Government Proved on Three Indictments.

Savannah, Ga., April 13.—Greene and Gaynor were found guilty of conspiracy yesterday on all three indictments, the jury returning its verdict.

The trial of Messrs. Greene and Gaynor consumed about thirteen and a half weeks. The defendants were charged with conspiracy to defraud the government and embezzlement in connection with the big government engineering works in this vicinity. They were indicted in 1902, and after fighting extradition proceedings in New York, fled to Canada. After lengthy proceedings there they were finally extradited and were brought to Havana for trial. Capt. Oberlin M. Carter, engineer corps, who had charge of the improvement works under the Greene and Gaynor contract, was court-martialed for his complicity in the alleged frauds and was sentenced to be dishonorably discharged from the army and to serve a term of imprisonment of five years.

SERGEANT NOYES FIRE FIGHTER

Discovers and Checks Blaze in Fraternity Building.

After Turning in Alarm Like a Veteran He Battles With the Fire.

WAS SPONTANEOUS COMBUSTION

Sergeant J. E. Noyes, of the local U. S. recruiting station, went into the fire fighting business this morning and quit with a record of which he may justly feel proud. He battled with a fire single handed and succeeded in completely routing it before the fire department arrived. The job was quickly done considering the fact that the army officer had run to the Palmer House to telephone in the alarm and then ran back and put out the blaze before the firemen could hitch up and make the run of a little more than twice the distance traversed by the plucky officer.

This morning about 4 o'clock Sergeant Noyes was passing the Fraternity building on Broadway between Fifth and Sixth streets. He discovered a brisk blaze in office No. 100, fronting on Broadway, and occupied by Mr. C. E. Jennings and W. B. Walters, real estate and insurance. The fire had gained considerable headway and the officer ran as fast as possible to the office of the Palmer Transfer company in the Palmer House, and instructed the night clerk to telephone in an alarm.

Sergeant Noyes returned to the scene of the conflagration and with lightning like rapidity whisked the "house hose" from the reel located on the west side of the down stairs hall, a short distance away. He turned on the water, and breaking out the glass in the office door fought his way into the smoke and already hot blaze to do battle. The private fire facilities worked admirably and before the firemen arrived Sergeant Noyes had the blaze under control.

The fire originated in a desk belonging to Mr. Walters. The desk sat next to the hall wall. The wainscoting and door frame burned with the greater portion of the desk. Papers and records of Mr. Walters were destroyed, but the more valuable records of the office were in a different part of the room and escaped. The large plate glass in the front of the room was cracked and will be a loss.

The estimated damage is $500 on the building and about $100 to the equipment. Mr. Jennings carries insurance but Mr. Walters does not. An investigation this morning showed the blaze to have doubtless originated from a bottle of patent furniture varnish compounded by a local man who is preparing to place it on the market. It is a quick drying varnish and the bottle had been wrapped in a rag.

The fire interfered with the office work today but the gentlemen will be ready for business again by tomorrow.

STEAMER STRUCK A BIG WAVE.

Six American Athletes Thereon Hurt, and Three Seriously.

Gibraltar, Spain, April 13.—An accident to the steamship Barbaresca, which was taking the American athletes to Olympic games at Athens, Greece, may deprive the teams of the services of six men. This was brought by the Barbaresca, which touched here today. When a day out from New York a great wave struck the steamer and six athletes on the forward deck, had a narrow escape from being washed overboard. All were injured, three seriously.

THE FIRST GAME OF THE SEASON

The Warriors Crossed Bats at Wallace Park Yesterday.

Some of the Work Was Fast and the Players Showed Very Good Form.

RESULT OF GAME IN DISPUTE

The "Regulars" and "Subs" played a practice game at Wallace park yesterday afternoon before a scattered crowd of fans who had gone out to "get a line" on the players.
The result of the contest is disputed.
The game began early in the afternoon and lasted until 4:30. At the close Umpire Gus Brahm announced that the Subs had won; but the Regulars claim the victory. In the absence of a scorer the result remains in dispute.
The score stood 9 to 5 and both teams were composed of a mixture of "veterans" and "youngsters." The batteries were Brahm, Miller and Wilgus, Tadlock and Wiggins for the "Subs." Brahm pitched four innings and Miller finished for the former and Wilgus pitched four and Tadlock five for the latter team.
The hits were scarce but playing good, taking everything into consideration. There was a strong wind blowing and the dust constantly filled the eyes of the players.
With no attempt at a just and impartial criticism the writer will say that some few showed real fast ability but some seemed a little nervous, and until this high strung tension wears off the manager will be unable to tell much about the players.
Of those who showed particular speed on the field are Gregory, infield; Frazier, infield; Miller, outfield, and Chenault, catching. The pitchers did not work hard and of the four who pitched, including Brahm, Miller, the southpaw heavyweight, showed up the better as far as speed and ginger was concerned. Wetzel, infielder, showed remarkable speed on the base line and seemed to have a good eye on the ball when batting.
There were others who had few opportunities to show their mettle.
Chenault has a "wing" equal to Land's. He gets 'em away faster than the Big Man, but probably is not quite so sure of his quarry as Land is. Land was green at first and hard to break in, and a few games with the Indians will be sufficient to straighten Chenault out and to cure him of his nervousness. He is a younger full of fire and eager to get into the game.
Lloyd will continue the work incessantly until the team is thorowly worked out. The material is raw, yet, it might be said, and until the positions are assigned and the men given a thorough test, little can actually be told of their worth.
Be it said, however, that the entire bunch seems to be faster than the ordinary minor league player.
With a good coach to work them out, a good strong team could be made from the weakest in the entire aggregation.
When Haas, Gilligan and South come, the roster will be complete and the assigning of positions for practice will be completed.
The indications point to an aggressive and well-contested campaign of the National League this season.

It will be the 31st season of the league, and from the champion New Yorks down to Brooklyn, fall-enders, all the teams apparently have been materially strengthened. Before meeting the strong western clubs the New Yorks are scheduled to play 22 games in the east.

Against the clubs the New Yorks are scheduled to meet first the champions had any easy task last year.
They defeated Philadelphia 14 out of 22 games, Boston 19 and Brooklyn 15. These clubs, however, seem to have been strengthened this year, Brooklyn particularly.

In the west, Chicago, Pittsburg and Cincinnati have made a number of changes in their teams, and all are regarded now as being very dangerous opponents. The Chicago are reported to be in excellent condition for the opening, while the Pittsburg players showed much strength in their southern training campaign.
Under the management of Edward Hanlon, the Cincinnati are expected to show a great improvement over their efforts of last year.

The most handsome baseball pass ever issued in the world is soon to be presented to President Roosevelt by President Ban Johnson of the American league. It is a "party" pass that will entitle the president to see any game he cares to see in the entire circuit, and will permit him to take anyone he cares to take.
The pass, embossed in gold, is inclosed in a seal case, on the outside of which is a monogram of the president, "T. R.", in solid gold. The pass bears the legend "Theodore Roosevelt and party, complimentary."

Officials of the Washington club will soon make an appointment at the White House for the purpose of presenting this gift to the president and inviting him to enjoy the games at any time.

A special box for the personal use of the president and his party is being built on the grand stand at the Washington park; next to the press
box. The president has not, heretofore, been a frequent visitor to ball games, but Congressman Longworth and Miss Alice Roosevelt, now Mrs.
Longworth, were regular attendants
last season at the Washington park, where they were well-known figures.

FURY OF VESUVIUS
GRAPHICALLY TOLD

Eruption of Mount Oin the Most Terrible on Record.

Like Serpent of Fire Lava Vomited by Volcano Destroys All in Path.

GOD'S MALIGNANT UNDERWORLD

Naples, April 13.—A graphic description of the conditions surrounding Mount Vesuvius has been written for the Associated Press by Robert Underwood Johnson, associate editor of the Century Magazine. Since the Chicago fire he says he has seen nothing so terribly impressive. Twenty years cannot repair the damage including the destruction of four whole villages. With a change of wind or slightly greater proportion of the seismic force the same might extend other segments of the circle of which Vesuvius is the center. The party caught a train from Torre An-nunziata, three miles this side of Pompeii and two miles from the southern end of the wedge of lava which destroyed Bosco Trecase. "We had a magnificent view of the eruption, eight miles away," he writes.
"Rising at an angle of fifty degrees the vast mass of tumult roundness was beautifully accentuated by the full moon shifting momentarily into forms and drifting south in low black clouds of ashes and cinders reaching to Capri. At Torre del Greco we ran under this terrifying pall, apparently a hundred feet above, the solidity of which was soon revealed by the moonlight. The torches of the railway guards added to the effect but greatly relieved the sulphurous darkness.

"We reached Torre Annunziata at 3 o'clock in the morning. There was little suggestion of disaster as we rugged through the lava to the sleeping town two miles away. The brilliant moon gave us a superb view of the volcano, a gray-brown mass rising expending and curling in with a profile like a monstrous cyclopean face, but nothing in mythology gives a suggestion of the fascination of this awful force, presenting the sublime beauty above but in its descent filled with the mysterious malignance of God's underworlds.

"We reached the lava at a picturesque cypress-planted cemetery on the northern boundary of Torre An-nunziata. It was as if the dead had effectually cried out to arrest the crushing river of flame which pitiless-ly engulfed the statue of St. Anne with which the people of Bosco Beale tried to stay it at Catania. The veil of St. Agatha is said to have saved a similar stream from Mount Etna.

"We climbed on the lava. It was cool above, but still alive with fire below. At dawn we saw north what was left of Bosco Trecase—a great superb stone church and a few houses inland in a sea of dull brown lava.
North and east rose a thousand patches of blue smoke, like swamp miasma. All was dull and desolate slag with nowhere the familiar serpentine forms of the old lava streams in terrible contrast with the volcanic evidences, were strong cypresses and blooming camellias in a neighboring cemetery.

"After sunrise, the great beauty of the scene was revealed. The column now seemed higher and more massive rising to three times the height of Vesuvius. Each portion had concentric motion and new aspects.

"The south edges floating toward the sea showed exquisite curved surfaces, due to the upper moving current. It was like the decoration of the side of a Greek sarcophagus. As a yellow dust hangs over Naples and hides the volcano I count myself fortunate to have seen all day from the leeward side this spectacle of changing, undiminished beauty.

"I left Pompeii in a car expecting to strike the edge of the lava, but what was my surprise to find no new lava at San Guiseppe. Four towns here were destroyed in different ways —by rain, cinders and ashes, which could not be skirted for they lay everywhere in a mass which had broken nearly every roof within the area of thirty miles by ten. From the lava, which was moving several feet a minute, we had no difficulty in escaping.

"At Bosco Trecase the carabinieri drove the people before the fiery avalanche but the flimsy built houses were no protection against the cinders and ashes, tasking the roofs or strongly built walls all Saturday.
The wedge east of the volcano thus destroyed extends ten miles at least, with a width of twenty or thirty miles.
"Fancy the thickly populated country of vineyards lying under three-to six inches of ashes and cinders, while above to the west the volcano in full activity is distributing to the outer edges of the circle the fate and you will have an idea of the desolate impression of the scene a tragedy colossal and heart-rending.
"Two miles below San Guiseppe, we struck cinders which the soldiers were shoveling, making a narrow road for the refugees. Our driver begged off from completing the contract to take us to San Guiseppe.
"We had not the heart to insist, so the rest of the journey to the railway at Palma, eight miles, made laboriously on foot for three hours through sliding cinders. In many places temporary shelters had been built by the roadside like children's playhouses. Here women were huddled with their begging awaiting the coming of supplies which the army had begun to distribute. The men were occupied in shoveling cinders from the roofs and stores.
"Many two-wheeled carts laden with salvage drawn by donkeys or pushed by peasants were making their way along, the women with bundles on their heads or carrying poultry. In the square of San Guiseppe was an encampment of soldiers with low tents. Near a destroyed church in coarse yellow lined shrouds were the bodies of 33 of the 105 persons who lost their lives. The peasants were sad but uncomplaining.
In fact, for so excitable a people they were wonderfully calm.
"At Palma we succeeded in catching a train for Naples."

CLOTHES OF QUALITY

WHEN you come here and see the Canterbury and other Spring Clothes, you'll find that the new coat for spring is broad-shouldered, long and graceful, with a full front and partly tight back. It springs out a bit, half way down the back. Single breasted fronts with long broad lapels, will be most worn. Trousers are still full and made with buckle and side strap on each hip to give them the right set and more comfort. Turned up trousers will be right—that is if the material is soft and easy to shape. No one fabric will have the call this spring. Of course worsteds and serges will be worn a lot, but radical men will wear finely woven cassimeres. Others will choose flannels. Some will select soft velours—besides there are any number of new fancy effects in serges and unfinished worsteds. Of course you must not expect to find clothes like these in any other ready-made shop. If you don't come here you will have to look up a merchant tailor. He can do almost as well as we can, but he will want at least twice as much as we'll ask you, for the custom shop delays, repeated try-ons, annoying waits and the excess profit, which will easily double what we'll ask for our clothes. We have called your attention to the style and fabric of our spring clothes in order to help you in making your selection. We have now come to the season of year when all nature bursts forth in new attire, and man, too, must lay aside his winter garments and "come forth as the rose." In assembling our magnificent stock of Spring Clothing and Furnishings we had one thought in view—to please. Just how well we have succeeded is attested by the many well dressed men you see on the street, whose clothes bear the hall mark of Weille.

DISPOSAL OF GARBAGE.

The board of health will petition the council to install a system of garbage collection daily, at the city's expense, at an early date, and the council should give it careful consideration.

The proper collection, and disposal of garbage is a question that is interesting every city that is seeking to properly safeguard the health of its citizens, and it is time that we should be doing something along this line for Paducah, for it is certainly needed.

The board of health suggests that the contract for the collection be let by contract. This year, the expense of about $2,500 would have to come out of the contingent fund, as there seems to be nothing else on which to draw for it, but the matter should be given precedent over some other things contemplated, and the appropriation readily made.

There is no one thing that speaks as well, or as much, for a city as its health condition, and beauty. The board of health is trying to give Paducah those traits in a great measure and it certainly should be given all assistance by the legislative, and administrative and judicial departments of the city government, as well as by the private citizens.

Castro's so-called political enemies in this country believe that his alleged resignation of the presidency of Venezuela is only a trick of his to mislead the outside world. They contend that whether Castro or any of his followers is in the presidential chair matters little, as the "gang" which has so corruptly ruled the country will be in power and there will be no change in the order of things. One of these "enemies," Gen. Jose Manuel Hernandez ("El Mochito") who led the revolution against President Castro, of Venezuela, several years ago, and who was imprisoned for three years following his capture, but who now lives in New York, in speaking of the reported action of Castro, says: "Venezuela can never be a prosperous country until the hour shall have arrived when the 'gang' is driven from the country and that country put on a footing where it may thrive and grow without the iron hand of oppression upon the throats of the people. Perhaps a week this will last—perhaps until a moment comes when success will come to the sore and the tried in that beautiful land." Castro is doubtless just as wily a schemer as Hernandez, classes him.

The disposition of the big insurance swindlers to fight back at some of their accusers, particularly Hamilton and Fields, has added much new information to the alleged rascality, but the half has not been told. It is evident, Hamilton has said that he has not yet begun to talk to Fields seems more than willing to "everything he knows," and two have been free to admit that they committed themselves the declared big swindlers, say they are not to be made scape-goats of, that the real rascals may escape, and the public shall have the facts in due season and have them in full, too. Here is another promised verification of the old saying that when rogues fall out honest (or suffering) men will get their dues. The policyholders in the big insurance companies may yet get what they were promised and that for which they paid full premiums.

Dowie and his son are rivals in their abuse and slander of each other. Each has declared the character of the other too black for either to be tolerated in any kind of a circle and not for a moment among a class of declared followers of God, no matter how cranky their ideas may be. If the Zionites want to stand in a better light before the world they will have to set both the Dowie's on a way back seat and let them remain there for the balance of their days. They might be succeeded by others just as bad as they are, but this world will not be so positive of it at the outset of their vice at once; the country has had enough of them without doubt.

A TEST CASE

MAY GROW OUT OF ARREST MADE UNDER ORDINANCE.

Saloon Men and Women Arrested Under Law Validity of Which Is Questioned.

Messrs. Ben Allen and W. C. Gray, proprietors of local saloons, with their bartenders, and Fannie Wilson and Violet Lee, inmates of a West Kentucky avenue resort were arraigned in police court this morning on a breach of ordinance charge, and the case continued until the 16th. The procedure will be in the nature of a test case to sound the validity of the ordinance which prohibits "lewd" women from entering or loitering about saloons.

It is alleged that the two women are guilty of having entered the saloons of the above mentioned proprietors and in addition to the proprietors being warranted for permitting them to enter the women were warranted for entering, which is also a violation of the ordinance treating both proprietor and the women alike.

There is a great deal of difference in opinion regarding the validity of the measure, and it will probably go to the higher courts either way it is decided by the police court. The saloon men claim that it is "class legislation" to prohibit women entering saloons and not a constitutional measure, while the city council thinks it is a good law. Once before a similar ordinance was knocked out, and the outcome of the present case will be watched with interest.

Minor Cases.

Fannie Wilson and Violet Lee, charged with being drunk and disorderly, were fined $5 and costs each.

The cases against Neal Long and R. E. Draftin, white charged with obtaining board by false pretenses and money by false pretenses, respectively, were continued.

Other cases: Oscar Cloran white, drunkenness, $1 and costs; Matthew Scott, colored, gaming, $20 and costs; Addie Montague, colored, breach of the peace, $3 and costs.

To Build the Curb Without Contract.

County Judge R. T. Lightfoot is preparing to tear down the court house fence and build a concrete curb around the yard. He asked for bids for the concrete work and one bidder bid $600 for the entire job. Judge Lightfoot decided this would be a little too steep, so he will buy the material himself and employ some one in the county road department who is acquainted with the work to take hold of the job. Judge Lightfoot thinks he will be able to get the work done for $200 less this way.

NAVIES OF EUROPE

SOON TO SHED $3,000,000 WORTH OF JUNK.

Great Britain, Germany and France Have 249 Obsolete Warships to Destroy.

New York, April 13.—Anybody who wants a warship can have one cheap by applying to the navy departments in London, Paris and Berlin. European experts have decided that there are 249 war vessels on the active lists of England, France and Germany that are useless and would be a menace only to their own countries in war time. These obsolete vessels are to be discarded gradually, and no longer are they to be taken into consideration in reckoning effective sea strength.

The warships cost $300,000,000 to build and have eaten up another $100,000,000 in maintenance and repairs. They are now worth only what they would bring as junk.

Great Britain some time ago began to discard her useless warships, getting rid of 150 at one swoop. She still has, however, 99 useless vessels; France has 84, and Germany 66.

All the battleships and armored cruisers in the list have been ruled out of future naval games, because of their age and general condition of decrepitude. The coast defense boats are obsolete and the protected, and unprotected cruisers are useless because of light caliber guns and thin armor.

The armored vessels leave little regret behind, because they have lived a life of usefulness, but the unarmored cruisers are now seen to have been an entirely worthless investment. They correspond to such vessels in the American navy as Olympia, Minneapolis, Cleveland and Cincinnati. They are not fast enough to run away from a modern protected cruiser, nor strong enough to fight. There are 169 of these ships to go to the morgue in tears.

The morgue in three European countries, and no more of their type are to be built.

This drastic process of elimination leaves these effective fighting ships:

England—Battleships, 56; armored cruisers, 24; destroyers, 162.

France—Battleships, 21; armored cruisers, 15; destroyers, 42.

Germany—Battleships, 20; armored cruisers, 6; destroyers, 49.

Hereafter the only vessels that will be laid down will be battleships carrying 12-inch guns and with a 20-knot speed; armored cruisers carrying 12-inch guns, but with slightly less armor than a battleship, so that they can get up 23 knots an hour, and torpedo boats and destroyers. A few light draft gunboats for river operations in China and similar work elsewhere may be constructed, but no others.

Good Friday Services.

Good Friday has been observed with the usual solemn and impressive services today.

At St. Francis de Sales Catholic church there was mass at 7:30 a. m. and there will be service at 7:30 tonight.

There were especial penitential services this morning at 10:45 at Grace Episcopal church. Tonight at 7:30 the service of the Passion will be given. There will be illustrated by the stereopticon with views of the Passion pictures and hymns appropriate to the service. This is a very beautiful and impressive service and the public is invited.

Reported Assault and Robbery.

A report of an assault and robbery was reported to the police today at noon, but no details of the affair were given.

The report first reached Officer Aaron Hurley of the depot beat, and was to the effect that some man had been assaulted, badly beaten up, robbed and his body thrown into a box car.

Officer Dick Tolbert was notified of the matter and is this afternoon investigating. The reported assault took place near the coal chute or coal tipple.

JUDGE REED LETS

PETIT JURY OFF

Docket Cleared in Way of Criminal Cases.

Grand Jury to Be Held Another Week to Finish Up a Bulk of Business.

PROCEEDINGS OF THE COURTS

This morning at 10:30 o'clock the petit jury in the McCracken circuit court which has been busy for two weeks, was finally discharged, all the criminal jury cases having been concluded with the continuance of the Henry Holloway murder case.

This has been the shortest term of criminal circuit court held here in many years, due to the characteristic dispatch of Judge Reed in his court procedure. There was a rather heavy docket but the grand jury aided in the speedy work by prompt action in the jail cases.

This morning Bert Roberts, white, who stole the bicycle belonging to Clyde Baker, was found guilty and given one year in the penitentiary. The court later changed it to three years in the state school of reform and Detective T. J. Moore was appointed to take him there.

Frank Mason, colored, charged with obtaining groceries by alleging he owned a blacksmith shop, was acquitted.

The case against Henry Holloway, indicted under the name of Holloway, for murdering George Travis, was continued and set for the special term of court to be held beginning June 25.

Nannie Gray, colored, who broke into the J. A. Gardner drug store at Tennessee and Third streets, was given one year in the penitentiary.

The grand jury this morning made a report, returning 13 indictments. Most of them are against bawdy house keepers, and one against J. T. Norfleet, charged with passing a worthless check. Ong or two bills were returned against persons who are not before the court.

The time of the grand jury will be extended another week, and although the jury cases are over, the judge will hold court open next week to receive the report of the grand jury, which has a great deal of work to do yet.

Norfleet Acquitted of Forgery.

J. T. Norfleet, white, charged with signing the name of Miss Jennie Cowser to checks which proved to be worthless, and the signatures forgeries, was acquitted of the charge in circuit court yesterday afternoon.

The case was simply one of veracity. The woman swore that she did not sign or authorize Norfleet to sign the papers, while Norfleet claims she did sign them. The jury was instructed to give the defendant the benefit of the doubt. Norfleet is still being held pending an investigation of his passing a worthless check on Frank Rodfus, the grocer.

Several Small Damage Suits.

Attorneys Taylor and Lucas have prepared suits for filing today against the I. C. road aggregating several thousand dollars because of alleged damages from improper drainage.

The plaintiffs are James Augustus, Julia Adkins, Belle Hart, M. T. Hurt, M. A. Warneck, T. A. Thornton, L. B. Spann, N. H. Williams and each sues for $500 damages, alleging that the I. C. placed drain pipes for surface drainage improperly in the Tyler neighborhood and caused water to back onto their property and materially impair the value and service of the real estate to the owners.

F. W. Katterjohn and others filed a suit against J. W. Puckett for $20, alleged to be due on a note.

The Pope County State bank of Golconda, Ill., filed suit against De Witt Robert John F. Harth and others for an alleged note of $1,900.

J. P. Thornton filed a suit against the Paducah Traction company for $250 damages. He alleges that through carelessness on the part of the motorman his horse was frightened at a street car on South Sixth street and ran away, damaging the harness, vehicle and bruising himself.

WILL SIGN THE SCALE.

Contractor Karnes Willing to Adjust Differences With Union.

Contractor William Karnes stated this morning that he would probably sign the union scale this spring. This will make the Carpenters' union strength in Paducah "full up"—every contractor of any prominence a signer of the agreement.

Contractor Karnes two years ago refused to sign the scale to employ only union men. He worked several members of his firm, which is against union rules. A bitter fight was waged and no amicable agreement reached. Now Mr. Karnes signifies his intention of signing, but does so of his own accord.

The contractor stated this morning that he paid more than the scale now in force, and even paid some employees more than the proposed scale of $2.80 a day, but to have matters in his trade running smoothly would sign up.

This will be gratifying to the carpenters who desire that perfect harmony exist among the trade.

APPOINTS INSPECTOR

SUPERINTENDENTS OF SEWER AND PAVEMENT SELECTED TODAY.

Engineer Washington Makes Appointments and Will Rush Street Reconstruction Work.

Two street inspectors whose appointment was authorized by the municipal boards last week and who are to assist the city engineering department in looking after the street reconstruction work this summer, have been selected by City Engineer L. A. Washington, who was vested with this authority, and Engineer Washington will be ready Monday to start his part of the improvement work. From indications, however, the work will not start unless Contractors Gardner & Robertson take some immediate action towards the storm water contract which was submitted to them by the Southern Bitulithic company.

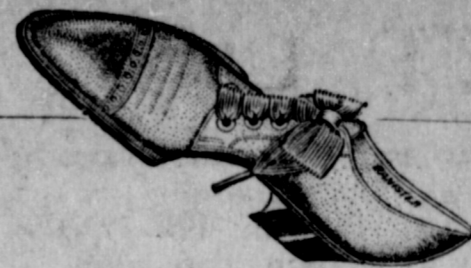

W. F. Chappell of Nashville, Tenn., a graduate of the engineering department of Vanderbilt University, has been selected as inspector to look after the sewerage work, and Mr. Alec Story will probably be appointed to look after the street and pavement work. Mr. Story has put in his application and is being favorably considered by Engineer Washington. Mr. Story has had a great deal of experience in concrete work, being employed for some time in government service working cement contracts.

The work on the street reconstruction should be progressing now, but as it is a delay of fifteen days—half a month—has experienced. Engineer Washington stated this morning that he presumed Contractor Gardner was in Hopkinsville, but that he had not heard from him this week and did not know when the sewer work would start. The street work is being retarded because it cannot be done until the sewers are laid. The Southern Bitulithic company is ready to do its part at once, and wanted the work begun April 1st. The delay is a serious matter and should not be permitted without reasonable cause.

Work in spite of yourself and make the habit of work; and when the habit is formed, it will be transformed into the love of work.

No matter how much we may have learned from the experience of others, that gained from our own life is always the fittest and best.

MABEL HITE MARRIES.

A Paducah Favorite Weds a New York Baseball Star.

The following interesting story about the wedding of Mabel Hite, the popular actress who has been in Paducah with "The Girl and the Bandit company" on two occasions is from the New York World of a recent issue, and was written by Mr. Guy Rolleston, who is visiting in New York City:

"Anent the opening of the baseball season in 1906 the wedding of Centre-Fielder Mitchell J. Donlin, of the New Yorks is reported. The happy bride of the ball tosser is Miss Mabel Hite, once a star in 'The Girl and the Bandit' company, and hailing from Kansas City, where, it is declared, 'Mike' first cast admiring eyes upon the graces of the pretty actress.

"They were married last night by Alderman Griffenhagen at the latter's residence, in Harlem. The bridegroom had just finished dinner and was on the point of receiving several constituents, when an automobile containing the ball player and his bride-to-be, with their friend, Billy Gilbert, the Giants' second baseman, hauled up in front of the house.

"I want to see the bride, they say he is good at tying marriage knots. I want to be married. Here is the woman in the case," and "Mike" for it was himself that spoke, introduced Miss Hite. The Alderman summoned his daughter Madeline, who acted as a witness with friend, Billy Gilbert. Then Donlin pushed a bunch of greenbacks into the hand of the bride and carried off his bride whirling away in the auto, smiling like a kid with a new toy.

"Incidentally the marriage of Donlin at diverse times and places has frequently been reported of late but last night's ceremony, Griffenhagen declares, was blinding and genuine."

BACK IN THE TOILS.

Old Fine Due Sends Will Childress to Jail.

Will Childress, alias "Yellow Boy," colored, is again in jail for a short term.

Childress was dismissed this week of the charge of housebreaking, the grand jury failing to find sufficient evidence to convict. This morning he was arrested again and taken to the big jail to serve out a 57 days' term for cutting in sudden heat and passion.

In looking over the records of the court it was learned that he was indebted to the court in the sum of $57, and will have to serve it out.

Childress will be remembered as the negro who had a hand cut off while stealing a ride on the railroad into Louisville after making his escape from the McCracken county jail.

BIG STOCK SALE

J. L. KILGORE SELLS INTEREST IN COOPERAGE COMPANY.

Purchasers Were His Associates in Business, Messrs. Blow and Hollingshead.

A big business transaction occurred in the city yesterday afternoon. While it was entirely of a private nature it was one of public interest in a way. The deal was the sale by Col. J. L. Kilgore of his stock in the Paducah Coopers company, which is one of the largest and most important industries of the city. The stock held by Mr. Kilgore was purchased by Messrs. V. J. Blow and D. Hollingshead, who were his associate owners of the plant. While the consideration is not made public it is understood that it required nearly $100,000 to secure the interest Mr. Kilgore held in the Coopers company.

Mr. Kilgore's reason for selling is his failing health and a desire to spend several months or longer at some of the noted resorts in Europe. He has already engaged passage on a steamer soon to sail from New York. Mr. Kilgore will be accompanied on his European trip by his wife and by ex-Gov. Wm. Durbin and wife, of Indiana, who lived next door to Mr. and Mrs. Kilgore in Anderson, Ind.

Col. Kilgore has a host of friends in Paducah made during several years' business connection with the city, who will regret to learn of the dissolution of these connections, and they will especially regret that they have been occasioned solely because of his failing health. All these will hope that in his European trip he will find the renewed health he seeks and that in the future they may see him often in Paducah again socially if not directly interested in the business prosperity of the place.

Mr. Kilgore may be in the city several days more before leaving for Anderson and New York.

THIRD STREET TROLLEY WIRE.

Complaint to Mayor Brings Out Facts From Company.

The mayor was waited on by a delegation of South Third street residents today with complaints about the many breaks the trolley wire has sustained recently and the resultant danger to the people along that thoroughfare. He has had several complaints from the people on Third street, the past week, and this morning when this one came in, which was the third today, he went to see Manager Bleeker of the street car company about it, and he assured him that the company was working on its trolley wires with as big a force as could be worked conveniently and that they wanted to and hoped to get to Third street very soon.

The company has a big force at work stringing the new trolley wires, and has completed a good deal of it, and will push the work as rapidly as it can be done.

The river fell .8 the past 24 hours, the gauge today registering 38.7. The fall is expected to continue very rapid now.

The Dick Fowler had a good trip for Cairo this morning.

The Joe Fowler had a good trip from and to Evansville today.

The Saltito is due to pass some time this afternoon for the Tennessee river from St. Louis.

The T. H. Davis, from Jopka, came up last night for a tow of ties.

The excursion steamer J. S., which has been here on the ways to be repainted, left today for Memphis.

The Georgia Lee is due tomorrow from Cincinnati for Memphis.

The Castalia is due today from the Tennessee river with J. B. Lord and party on board. They have been on a tour of inspection of the company's interests in the Tennessee and Cumberland rivers.

The Dick Fowler will run an excursion Sunday to the new I. C. bridge over the Tennessee river at Gilbertsville.

The J. B. Finley is 209 feet long and the J. B. Williams 210 feet. Both boats passed down a few days ago.

Assurance is given that if the river gets low enough dredge boats will cut out all the bars between Cairo and Louisville, and generally improve the lower Ohio.

The Green Rapids dam in the Wabash river, one mile above Mount Carmel, Ill., was one of the most expensive the government ever built. It is a fine piece of work but the amount of traffic passing through is falling off each year. The time was when the Wabash was alive with fine craft taking the pork, wheat and corn of the opulent valley as far south as New Orleans, and some boats even plied from Lafayette, Ind., to Pittsburgh. Some of the boats were the Hibernia, Crescent City and Liberty No. 2.—Courier-Journal.

River Forecasts: The Ohio at Evansville and Mt. Vernon will continue to fall rapidly during the next two or three days. At Paducah and Cairo will continue falling for an indefinite period. The rate of fall will increase materially during the next 36 hours, and will become rapid by Saturday. The Tennessee, from Florence to the mouth, not much change during the next 36 hours. The Mississippi from below St. Louis to Cairo, will continue falling. The Wabash at Mt. Carmel, will continue falling.

REVIVAL IN CIRCUS

FIVE HUNDRED "ARRAIDED" ACTORS AND ACTRESSES.

Evangelist Speaks After a "Performance." By Invitation, to the Peculiar Gathering.

Philadelphia, Pa., April 13.—Unique in the annals of religious revivals was the one that Rev. Dr. Reuben A. Torrey held yesterday. His hearers were the 500 members of a Yankee Circus on Mars company, sitting in the orchestra chairs of the Grand opera house, just vacated with the matinee audience, sitting there with paint and powder still on their faces, with never a change of garment from those worn when the curtain went down, to whom he was introduced by his old friend Captain Woodward, one-time minister of the Presbyterian church, but nowadays master of a dozen marvelous seals.

Miss Bessie McCoy, soubrette of the circus, president of the Theatrical Women's Sabbath Association, at whose invitation the noted evangelist was there, sat with her sister officials in one of the lower boxes, but for the rest there was no ceremony in the matter of securing seats. Ballet dancers in flesh colored tights faintly covered by gauze-spangled drapery of many hues, milkmaids with short skirts of pale blue, members of the "Royal Guard" in brown velvet and buckskins and bright armor, other retainers in bright red—these and many more in motley garb comprised the assemblage that the evangelist looked kindly upon from the front of the curtained stage, probably the strangest, the most gayly clad that he or any other wearer of the cloth ever addressed.

Capt. Woodward alone sat with him on the stage to introduce him to the fellow members of the company. Dr. Torrey concluded by saying: "I used to take part in theatricals in an amateur way," he said, smiling, "and in those days I took the girls' part in just such clothes as these."

The mental picture after the manner of "Look on that, then on this" was too much for the listeners, and laughter was shown upon many a tear-stained, paint-covered face. It was a very solemn company of ballet dancers, soubrettes, court retainers and leading actors, for none in the human cast of the show was missing, that filed back to the stage, where the preacher held a reception.

And thus ended the revival brought about by the members of the Theatrical Women's Sabbath Association, a revival unique as it was picturesque.

THE NORMAL SCHOOLS

THREE CITIES MAKE "TAKING" PROPOSITIONS TO COMMISSIONERS.

Bowling Green and Richmond Particularly Make Handsome Offer to State.

Frankfort, Ky., April 13.—The state commission to locate the two normal schools provided for by act of the general assembly met Thursday in the office of the state superintendent here and organized for business. Commissioner B. M. Arnett, of Nicholasville, was elected chairman, and John Morris, of Covington, secretary. Thos. W. Thomas, of Bowling Green, and R. W. Miller, of Richmond, presented the claims of those places. Mr. Thomas told the commissioners that his city is prepared to give the state property of the value of $150,000. He urged prompt action and invited the commissioners to visit Bowling Green and inspect the property offered. Mr. Miller united with Mr. Thomas in urging speedy action. He said that Richmond offered the state school property of the value of $200,000.

E. L. Hutcherson, of Glasgow, has a superior location. It has ample ground, and is willing to erect proper buildings and give them to the state. He invited the commission to visit Glasgow. Mr. Young, of Barren, indorsed what Mr. Hutcherson had said. Prof. C. C. Cherry spoke for Bowling Green.

OUT IN THE WORLD.

Three Lads From Lyon County Here to Seek Fortunes.

Alexander, Henry and Leslie Dooms, age 14, 12 and 10 years respectively, came to Paducah yesterday to make their fortunes, but were rather discouraged last night at having to sleep at the city hall after tramping the streets all day looking for work.

The boys tell a very unusual story. They claim they are the children of Leonard Dooms, a farmer living five miles from Kuttawa, and that he gave them permission to leave home and seek work, paying their fare to the city yesterday. The boys had but $2 over the amount of fare and desire to work. They were referred to charitable organizations today, and will doubtless get employment somewhere.

"My mother has suddenly been made young at 70. Twenty years of intense suffering from dyspepsia had entirely disabled her, until six months ago, when she began taking Electric Bitters, which have completely cured her and restored the strength and activity she had in the prime of life," writes Mrs. W. L. Gilpatrick, of Danforth, Me. Great restorative medicine on the globe. Sets Stomach, Liver and Kidneys right, purifies the blood, and cures Malaria, Biliousness and Weaknesses. Wonderful Nerve Tonic. Price 50c. Guaranteed by McPherson's Drug Store.

A DERELECT

ONE WOMAN'S LOYALTY TO MAN COSTS HER HEAVILY.

Olive Logan, Once Noted Authoress, Old and Homeless, in Magistrate's Court.

New York, April 13.—A tottering old woman, who could only hear, and then not clearly, with the aid of an ear trumpet, made her way up the aisle of the Harlem police court and told a tale of suffering and want, while her husband, reeling from rum and much unkempt stood at the bar to answer her charges. The poverty stricken old woman was Olive Logan, once reckoned among the most brilliant of American authoresses, playwrights, actresses and lecturers.

"James O'Neill Logan to the bar," roared the police sergeant of the court.

"Where is Olive Logan?" bawled out the sergeant, and it was then that the complainant in the case made her way up before the magistrate's bench and told her story.

There wasn't much about the case to excite the court attendants. James O'Neill Logan, a watchman employed on Ellis Island, had squandered his last month's wages, and his wife, who was served with a dispossession notice to vacate the small apartments they occupied at 2568 Seventh avenue, wanted the magistrate to commit the man, who is her second husband, to an institution.

"I still love my husband," said Mrs. Logan, "but he won't bring any money home. He stops in the saloon and it is all gone by the time he gets to the flat."

Magistrate Cornell advised Mrs. Logan to prefer a charge of non-support and disorderly conduct against her husband so that he could hold him for a day and thus gain time in order to make some final and satisfactory disposition of the case.

Mrs. Olive Logan, now old and poverty stricken, has had a most interesting and brilliant career. She is 67 years old. Together with her sister, Celia, two years her senior, Olive Logan went on the stage and became popular. They both abandoned the footlights and married.

Olive became the wife of William Wirt Sikes, an author and newspaper man who subsequently was appointed United States consul to Cardiff, Wales, by President Grant. Celia married M. K. Kellogg, an American painter, who also settled in England.

While in England the two sisters took up active literary work under the tutelage of Charles Reade. When her husband died in London in 1887 Mrs. Sikes returned to this country and engaged in literary work and play writing. She also lectured and became a well known figure throughout the country.

Among her works are "Photographs of Paris Life," "Chateau Frisac," "Women and Theaters," "The Mimic World," "Get Thee Behing Me Satan," and "They Met by Chance."

WHAT would you do if you were confronted by an individual who argued that he could show you how to save money and more of it than you have been in the habit of saving?

You would be willing to listen to him, even though you realized that he was talking a little for his own interest.

You would not care how much or how little there was in it for him, would you? Just so everything looked fair. It's human nature.

We are all out for the same thing, and most of us are willing to live and let live. Brothers Surrender.

Covington, Ky., April 13.—Talbert and Malcolm Holliday came to this city and surrendered to the federal authorities. They are under indictment in the state courts on the charge of killing Pharaoh and Peter Sloane, brothers, who were killed in Knott county, Ky., while trying to prevent federal officers and a posse from raiding their illicit still. Fearing the wrath of the Sloanes' friends, the Hollidays evaded arrest and came to Covington. They appeared before United States Commissioner John Menzie today and were bound over to the federal court on bonds of $400 each, which they furnished. Marshal C. M. Tucker, who led the posse which killed the Sloanes, was acquitted.

THE SPENDERS

A TALE OF THE THIRD GENERATION

By HARRY LEON WILSON

Copyright, by Lethrop Publishing Company.

At four o'clock that afternoon, Advice Milbrey's ring brought Mrs. Van Geist's butler to the door.

"Sandon, is Aunt Cornelia at home?"

"Yes, Miss Milbrey, she's confined to her room h'account h'of a cold, miss."

"Thank heaven!"

"Yes, miss—certainly! will you go h'up to her?"

"And Mutterchen, dear, it was a regular bombshell," she concluded after she had fluttered some of the November freshness into Mrs. Van Geist's room, and breathlessly related the facts.

"You demented creature! I should say it must have been."

"Now, don't lecture!"

"But Shepherd is one of the richest men in New York."

"Dad already suspects as much."

"And he's kind, he's a big-hearted chap, a man of the world, generous—"

"A woman fancier," Fidelia Oldaker calls him."

"My dear, if he fancies you—"

"There, you old conservative, I've heard all his good points, and my duty has been written before me in letters of fire. Dad devoted three hours to writing it this morning, so don't, please, say over any of the moral maxims I'm likely to have heard."

"But why are you unwilling?"

"Because—because I'm wild, I fancy—just because I don't like the idea of marrying that man. He's such a big, funny, round head, and positively no neck—his head just rolls around on his big, pillow shoulders—and then he gets little right at once, tapers right off to a point with those tiny feet."

"It isn't easy to have everything."

"It wouldn't be easy to have him, either."

Mrs. Van Geist fixed her niece with a sudden look of suspicion.

"Has—has that man anything to do with your refusal?"

"No—not a thing—I give you my word, auntie. If he had been what I once dreamed he was, no one would be asking me to marry him now, but—do you know what I've decided?"

Why, that he is a joke—that's all—just a joke. You needn't think of him, Mutterchen—I don't, except to think it was funny that he should have impressed me so—he's simply a joke."

"I could have told you as much long ago."

"Tell me something now. Suppose Fred marries that Wybert woman."

"It will be a sorry day for Fred."

"Of course! Now see how I'm pinned. Dad and the matter both say the same now—they're more severe than I was. Only we were never in such straits for money. It must be had. So this is the gist of it: I ought to marry Rulon Shepherd in order to save Fred from a marriage that might get us into all sorts of scandal."

"Well!"

"Well, I would do a lot for Fred. He has faults, but he's always been good to me."

"And so?"

"And so it's a question whether he marries a very certain kind of woman or whether I marry a very different kind of man."

"How do you feel?"

"For one thing, Fred shan't get into that kind of muddle if I can save him from it."

"Then you'll marry Shepherd?"

"I'm still uncertain about Mr. Shepherd."

"But you say—"

"Yes, I know, but I've reasons for being uncertain. If I told you you'd say they're like the most of a woman's reasons, more fond, foolish hopes, so I won't tell you."

"Well, dear, work it out by your lonely if you must. I believe you'll do what's best for everybody in the end. And I am glad that your father and Margaret take your view of that woman."

"I was sure she wasn't right—and I knew Mr. Bines was too much of a man to speak of her as he did without positive knowledge. Now please give me some tea and funny little cakes; I'm famished."

"Speaking of Mr. Bines," said Mrs. van Geist, when the tea had been brought by Sandon, "I read in the paper this morning that he'd taken a party to North Carolina for the quail shooting. Eddie Arledge and his wife and that Mr. and Mrs. Garner, and of course Florence Akemitt. Should you have thought she'd marry so soon after her divorce? They say Bishop Doolittle is frightfully vexed with her."

"Really I hadn't heard. Whom is Florence to marry?"

"Mr. Bines, to be sure! Where have you been? You know she was on his yacht a whole month last summer—the bishop's sister was with her—highly scandalized all the time by the striking and gayety, and now every one's looking for the engagement to be announced. Here, what did I do with that Town Topics Cousin Clint left? There it is on the tabouret. Read the paragraph at the top of the page."

Advice read:

"An engagement that is rumored with uncommon persistence will put society on the qui vive when it is definitely announced. The man in the case is the young son of a mining Croesus from Montana, who has inherited the major portion of his father's millions and who began to dazzle upper Broadway about a year since by the reckless prodigality of his ways. His blonde innamorata is a recent divorcee of high social standing, noted for her sparkling wit and an unflagging exuberance of spirits. The latest of the gossips, however, states chiefly in the uncle of the lady, a right reverend presiding over a bishopric not a thousand miles from New York, and in the attitude he will assume toward her contemplated remarriage. At the last Episcopal convention this godly and well-learned gentleman was a vehement supporter of the proposed canon to prohibit absolutely the marriage of divorced persons; and though he stoutly championed his bewitching niece through the infidelities that eventuated in South Dakota, on dit that he is highly wrought up over her present intentions, and has signified unmistakably his severest disapproval. However, nous verrons ce que nous verrons."

"But, Mutterchen, that's only one of those absurd, vulgar things that wretched paper is always printing. I could write dozens of them myself. Tom Banning says they keep one man writing them all the time, out of his own imagination, and then they put them in like raisins in a cake."

"But, my dear, I'm quite sure this is authentic. I know from Fidelia Oldaker that the bishop began to cut up about it to Florence, and Florence defied him. That ancient theory that most gossip is without truth was exploded long ago. As a matter of fact most gossip, at least about the people we know, doesn't do half justice to the facts. But, really, I can't see why he fancied Florence Akemitt. I should have thought he'd want some one a bit less flutery."

"I dare say you're right, about the gossip, I mean—Miss Milbrey remarked when she had finished her tea, and refused the cakes. 'I remember, now, one day when we met at her place, and he seemed so much at home there. Of course, it must be so. How stupid of me to doubt it! Now I must run. Good-by, you old dear, and be good to the cold.'"

"Let me know what you do."

"Indeed I shall; you shall be the first one to know. My mind is really, you know, almost made up."

A week later Mr. and Mrs. Horace Milbrey announced in the public prints the engagement of their daughter Advice to Mr. Rulon Shepherd.

FACTS IN NATURE.

Not Only Do We Get Inspiration From Nature, But Health as Well.

For people who are run-down and nervous, who suffer from indigestion or dyspepsia, headache, biliousness, or torpid liver, coated tongue with bitter taste in the morning and poor appetite in the day, comes necessary to turn to some tonic or strengthener which will assist Nature and help them to get on their feet and put the body into its proper condition. It is becoming more and more apparent that Nature's most valuable health-giving agents are to be found in forest plants and roots.

Nearly forty years ago, Dr. R. V. Pierce, now consulting physician to the Invalids' Hotel and Surgical Institute, at Buffalo, N. Y., discovered that by scientifically extracting and combining certain medicinal principles from native roots, taken from our American forests, he could produce a medicine which was marvelously efficient in curing cases of biliousness and liver and stomach trouble as well as many other chronic, or lingering ailments. This concentrated extract of Nature's vitality he named "Golden Medical Discovery." It purifies the blood by putting the stomach and liver into healthy condition, thereby helping the digestion and assimilation of food which feeds the blood. Thereby it cures weak stomach, indigestion, torpid liver, or biliousness, and kindred derangements.

If you have coated tongue, with bitter or bad taste in the morning, frequent headaches, feel weak, easily tired, stitches or pain in side, back gives out easily and aches, belching of gas, constipation, or irregular bowels, feel flashes of heat alternating with chilly sensations or kindred symptoms, they point to derangement of your stomach, liver and kidneys, which the "Golden Medical Discovery" will correct more speedily and permanently than any other known agent. Contains no alcohol or habit-forming drugs. All its ingredients printed in plain English on wrapper.

The sole motive for substitution is to permit the dealer to make a little more profit. He gains; you lose. Accept no substitute for "Golden Medical Discovery."

Constipation causes and aggravates many serious diseases. It is thoroughly cured by Dr. Pierce's Pleasant Pellets. One a laxative; two or three are cathartic.

How the State is Gouged.

(From Louisville Herald.)

The Hon. James E. Cantrell, titular judge of the court of appeals, is now at Mississippi City drinking in the ozone from the gulf's soothing atmosphere and suave waves. We wish him a long and happy rest, but duty to the commonwealth of Kentucky compels us to wish and also to call for a cessation of the farcical side of Cantrellism. The Hon. James E. Cantrell is receiving an enormous salary for duties he is unable to render the people of Kentucky. His physical unfitness is very little more pronounced, if at all, than his intellectual incapacity to sit on a bench of justice. Judge Cantrell has never been, since his election to the court of appeals, fit for the discharge of judicial duty. The business of the state and of the people has, accordingly, suffered. The state treasury suffered for one year by paying $5,000 for what it cannot be fairly said it got from James E. Cantrell—the services of an appellate judge.

It is now suffering by paying two big salaries, one to James E. Cantrell, enabling the latter to live in Mississippi City, or some other health resort, and another to Judge Carroll, under the title of commissioner, for what Judge Cantrell should be doing as judge in active duty.

We favor fair dealing, even to Judge Cantrell, but fairness, like charity, begins at home. The overtaxed public is entitled to some, at least, of the consideration lavished on a man never known in his days of activity for excessive generosity to others.

With James E. Cantrell, the sick man, we sympathize; in the case of James E. Cantrell, the disqualified judge, we feel that he ought to get justice, but no more.

Judge Cantrell should quit the bench or be made quit it.

MANY ENOCH ARDENS.

Return of Supposedly Dead Russians Causes Complications.

St. Petersburg, April 13.—Among the Russian prisoners arriving from Japan there are many who had been reported dead by the general staff and whose wives and other relatives had been so informed. The unexpected reappearance of these men is causing all sorts of strange family complications, as many wives, under the impression that they were widows, have remarried.

The newspapers contain an account of a case which happened in the province of Perm, where a returning soldier found his wife already the mother of a child by a new husband. He took the matter to the village priest for settlement. The first husband offered to acquiesce to the new conjugal arrangement if he received $25 but the second husband was unable to pay the money and it was finally arranged that the wife should return to her first husband.

However, as the second marriage was considered legal and as official documents were at hand to prove the apparent death of the living husband, it was decided that the child born while the first husband was away must legally be registered as belonging to the second husband and that it must be cared for by him.

THE REVIVALS

FOUR SERVICES AND DEEP INTEREST AT BROADWAY M. E. CHURCH TODAY.

Ten More Additions to Second Baptist Church Last Night—Services Again Tonight.

With the service tonight at 7:30, there will have been four meetings held at the Broadway Methodist church today, where the revival is being marked by an increased interest and growing attendance.

At 6 a. m. there was an early service of much power that was quite largely attended. The usual 10 o'clock morning service was held. At 3 p. m. there was a children's service instead of at 4:15, as the schools were not in session this afternoon. The meetings are alternately led by the Rev. J. B. Culpepper and Rev. Burke Culpepper and their sermons are strong and forceful.

Last night Rev. J. B. Culpepper spoke to a large congregation on "Heaven and Hell," using the parable of "Dives and Lazarus" for his foundation theme. It was a logical and practical exposition and produced a marked impression. There were 11 additions to the church during yesterday's services.

There will be only two services tomorrow at 10 a. m. and 7:30 p. m.

There were 10 conversions at the Second Baptist church last night. Rev. E. B. Farrar preached a forcible and eloquent sermon. He will fill the pulpit again tonight and will leave for Louisville at 1:40 a. m. for a several days' stay. The meeting will be conducted by the pastor, Rev. E. H. Cunningham, and Rev. G. W. Hill of the First Baptist church, during Mr. Farrar's absence.

Mrs. Frank L. Meadows, of Fulton, spent yesterday in the city the guest of Mrs. Walter Shepherd, of Fulton, who is visiting her mother, Mrs. Sophie Baumgard at 1713 Broad street. Attorney J. M. Worton and Judge Breathitt, of Hopkinsville, left for Smithland today to attend court.

Contentment is the philosopher's stone, which turns all it touches into gold; the poor man is rich with it, and the rich man poor without it.

DREAM OF YEARS

LIKELY TO BE REALIZED BY RESIDENTS OF CAIRO.

Interurban Railway to Be Built to Mounds, Villa Ridge and Mound City.

Cairo, Ill., April 13.—There seems to be a strong likelihood that Cairo's dream of many years, to have railroad connection with the hills of Villa Ridge, is soon to be realized. For a week or ten days past, or longer, a gentleman has been very quietly at work gathering information, making surveys, compiling statistics, and carrying on an extensive correspondence with the people whom he represents. He has established himself in an office in Mr. Dan Hartman's building and has brought his family here. He has had engineers and real estate agents at work selecting a right of way through the country for an interurban electric line to run from Cairo to Mounds, Villa Ridge and Mound City.

The company behind this project has its headquarters in Chicago and is a strong one financially. It asks no bonus, but proposes to build the line as a business proposition, feeling sure of proper returns on the investment. Their agent has secured statements from the railroads as to the amount of business from Cairo to the three points named, and the figures are very satisfactory.

If all goes well it is expected that the portion of the railroad from the city limits to Cache bridge will be ready for operation early in July. The company has an extensive system of inter-urban railroads in this and other states, with which it is believed, this new road will connect in due time. It runs a fine system of cars, with combination gasoline and electric power.

Today Judge Spear, who presided during the trial, sentenced Green and Gaynor to four years' imprisonment in the penitentiary and imposed on each a fine equal to the amount of their embezzlement from the government, $575,000. The defendants may be relieved of the fine by taking an oath that they are possessed of no more than twenty dollars.

Both actions taken on the case by the referee were left open for fifteen days for a review. This practically settles the important points in a very interesting case.

A WOMAN LEADER
To Sioux City, Ia., Gang of Store Thieves.

Sioux City, Ia., April 13.—A sensation in church circles has been caused here by numerous arrests of alleged conspirators on a charge of systematically robbing a local dry goods establishment. C. C. Wand, a graduate of the state university and prominent church worker, attempted suicide by drowning and is now in a hospital suffering from nervous prostration as a result of the discovery that a warrant for his arrest had been issued.

Chas. M. Wand, for four years county coroner and a prominent surgeon, admits having been present at a meeting of the alleged conspirators but denies having participated in the plot. Two satchels filled with plunder found in his residence are declared by him to have been left there by members of the gang without knowledge on his part as to the contents thereof.

Mrs. M. J. Merrell, head of the linen department of the store, is alleged to be the ringleader of the conspirators. She is under arrest as is also J. W. Shield and M. J. Bender, clerks who are said to have assisted in the thefts and disposal of the plunder. The total amount thus far recovered is valued at $600.

IMPORTANT ORDERS

MADE THIS FORENOON IN MOSES SCHWAB BANKRUPTCY CASE.

Referee Bagby Dismisses Petition to Require Schwab to Pay Trustee $10,000.

Attorney E. W. Bagby, referee in bankruptcy for this district, made some very important orders in the bankruptcy matter of Moses Schwab this morning, and all chances for startling developments were rudely arrested.

The Schwab case has been an interesting one from the outset. The petitioner failed to keep books properly during the last few years and could not account in black and white for some of the money he had taken in and expended. The trustee, A. Boyd, filed a petition to compel the bankrupt to pay over to him as trustee $10,000—the amount alleged unaccounted for.

This morning Referee Bagby, after having reviewed the evidence thoroughly, decided that the petition be dismissed absolutely and so ordered. He further discharged absolutely the rule against the bankrupt which had been temporarily made.

In the matter of Theresa Schwab's claim of $2,600 the referee decided it just and made an order requiring the claim to be pro rated with other creditors of the bankrupt. There was a controversy over this claim also. An attempt was made by creditors to require the claim to be excluded on the grounds intimating the next thing to collusion, but the referee decided as stated.

Both actions taken on the case by the referee were left open for fifteen days for a review. This practically settles the important points in a very interesting case.

THE FIRST TICKET

Sold By I. C. Down Town Office Was to New York.

The first ticket sold from the new down town office of the I. C. road was disposed of at 10 o'clock this afternoon to Mr. Charlie Riecke, and Mr. George Warfield, the city ticket agent, sold it. It read to New York City and cost $24.50.

While the ticket office is not yet fitted out demands make it necessary that it be opened for business and tickets from now on will be sold. The agent is a little handicapped in his sales on account of having no arranged that he can make sales with comparatively good speed. The business will not be so rushing, however, that he will be inconvenienced to any great extent by the absence of a case.

"We are now ready for business," Ticket Agent Geo. Warfield stated at noon "and I think the city office will do the bulk of ticket selling after it has become generally known that such an office is in existence."

Following the sale of the first ticket several others were sold, the second being to a stranger who bought passage to Louisville.

The man who does his work today the best he can, and lives only one day at a time, is the man who is best conserving his God-given energies.

WANTED MONEY (?)

But Got Instead Advice to do Some Walking.

Detective Will Baker this afternoon received a telegram from Chief of Police James Collins, who is attending the national association of chiefs of police at Hot Springs, Ark., asking him to send him some money, that he was broke.

The telegram was, of course, a joke, but Detective Baker replied, at the chief's expense, saying: "The treasury is dry, but it will soon be blackberry time, and you can pick your way back."

Chief Collins did not state when he would return to Paducah, but is expected back Sunday or Monday.
